Secret Service Agents Seek

2 BELIEVED "TOOLS"

Chief Charges Abortive Try
Timed to Touch Off
Revolt in U. S.

By Robert G. Nixon
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—(INS)—

A hemisphere-wide federal investigation slashed today into the conspiracy that exploded with the assassination attempt on President Truman by two wildly-shooting Puerto Rican nationalists.

U. S. Secret Service agents sought the real leaders of the plot, convinced that the men who tried to shoot their way into Blair House were only tools of a widespread conspiracy to gain independence for the Caribbean island.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman bluntly charged the abortive assassination try was timed to touch off a revolt in the United States.

One of the conspirators, Griselio Torresola, was killed by guards, and the other, Oscar Collazo, was wounded.

Baughman reported that Collazo, from his hospital bed, said:

"We came here for the express purpose of shooting the President."

An officer wounded in the gunfight quoted one of the pair—he did not say which—as saying "He've come to see the boss" before they started shooting.

Two letters from Pedro Albizu Campos, Harvard-educated leader of the Puerto Rico Nationalists, were found in Torresola's wallet. The letters expressed the hope that "your mission will be a triumph."

The federal investigation was centered in Washington, New York and San Juan, Puerto Rico, as continued on Page Four

Bristol Teachers Will Visit The U. N. Sessions

Faculty members of Bristol public schools tomorrow will visit the United Nations, probably attending sessions of both the Security Council and the General Assembly. Special permission was granted by the Bristol school board.

The group will be conducted on a tour of the United Nations buildings by a representative of the United Nations. Some of the committee rooms will be visited and a member of the General Assembly will address the group.

All arrangements were made with the aid of the Bristol Travel Bureau; Miss Walden of the World Affairs Council; and Charles Boyd of Bristol high school.

The teachers are dividing into two groups. One group will return to Bristol at seven p. m.; the others remaining in New York city and returning on a later train.

G. R. SWEENEY

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 2—Rites for George B. Sweeney, 75, who died at his home here on Tuesday, are scheduled for Saturday at eight a. m., from 45 N. Pennsylvania avenue. Requiem high mass is to be celebrated in Holy Trinity R. C. Church at 9:30, with burial in Yardley. Friends may call Friday evening. Mr. Sweeney is survived by his wife, Agnes Flannery Sweeney; three sons, William B. and Charles R. Morrisville, and John H., of Boston, Mass., also by four grandchildren.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Communists forces threw tanks and Soviet-type jet planes against United Nations forces in Korea. American troops were eighteen miles from the Manchurian border, but United Nations troops near Unsan were forced to yield ground.

India expressed "keen disappointment" in answering Communist China's rejection of her concern over the invasion of Tibet.

The United Nations General Assembly, 46 to 5, extended the term of Secretary General Lie for three years. Only the Soviet bloc voted no, while Australia, Nationalist China and the Arab states abstained. The Assembly opened debate on the move giving it power to combat aggression quickly.

France is ready to contribute half of forty divisions planned for Western Europe by 1953, Defense Minister Moch said. Secretary Acheson declared it was agreed there should be no German general staff, national army or war industries.

Pope Pius proclaimed as dogma the Assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven.

AIDING BLAIR HOUSE GUARD SHOT BY GUNMEN

A bystander goes to the aid of one of three White House guards who were wounded in the gun battle with two men who tried to shoot their way into Blair House, official residence of President Truman. One of the gunmen was killed instantly. The other was critically wounded and expected to die. The men were tentatively identified as Marion Preston (killed) and Oscar Olliskin (wounded). Mr. Truman had just finished lunch at the time of the shooting. (International Soundphoto)

RIVER BRIDGES TURN IN PROFIT FOR TWO YEARS

Burlington and Tacony
Spans Make Profit of $529,666.97

EXCEEDS ESTIMATES

Profit Thus Far Is $313,106.97 More Than Was Estimated

PALMYRA, N. J., Nov. 2—During the first two years' operation of the Tacony-Palmyra and Burlington-Bristol bridges, a total of $529,666.97 has been accumulated as profit for Burlington county.

The Burlington County Bridge Commission, which has operated the spans since Oct. 23, 1948, announced this today in its annual report to the board of freeholders.

The profit already accumulated for the county, Howard R. Yocum, commission chairman, explained, is $313,106.97 more than was originally estimated for the two year period.

During the 12 months covered by the report, Oct. 1, 1949, to Sept. 30, 1950, Yocum added, profit accumulated for the county totaled $449,029.66 or $313,129.66 more than was anticipated.

"This bears out the revised estimate," Yocum said, "that the county's ultimate profit from the two spans will be more than $13,000,000 instead of the $4,345,800 originally estimated."

The revised estimate of $13,000,000, he added, was made by Coverdale & Colpitts, nationally-known traffic engineering firm, which made the original $4,345,800 estimate upon which acquisition of the spans was based.

Yocum said the original estimate was based on a profit of only $216,560 being accumulated during the first two years' operation.

"Two years' experience indicates that the profit being accumulated for the county will be substantially greater each year," he said.

In addition to the $529,666.97 accumulated as profit for the county, reserve funds totaling $1,271,558.56 have been set aside from operating profit.

The reserves are to insure future operation.

FAMED PLAYWRIGHT, GEORGE B. SHAW, DIES

Brilliant Dramatist Had Been in A Coma For 29 Hours

WAS 94 YEARS OLD

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, ENG., Nov. 2—(INS)—George Bernard Shaw, renowned contemporary playwright and master of modern literature, died today at the age of 94.

The brilliant life of wit and humor that carried Shaw to greatness came to an end at one minute to five this morning when the dramatist passed away peacefully in a coma into which he had lapsed 29 hours previously.

The bearded, world-famous man of letters succumbed to the ravages of years and the recent ordeals of a broken thigh bone and a kidney operation.

Shaw, playwright, author, essayist and humorist who unblushingly ranked himself with Shakespeare, died at Shaw's Corner, his picturesque villa on a three-acre estate in the village of Ayot St. Lawrence.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Michael Muffrida was removed, by the Bucks County rescue squad, from Bryn Mawr hospital to his home, Pine street, last evening.

TO RECEIVE BIDS TODAY FOR APPROACH TO DELAWARE RIVER BRIDGE ON THE MORRISVILLE SIDE OF THE NEW SPAN

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 2—Bids are scheduled to be received today in the offices of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission in Trenton, N. J., for the Morrisville approach to the new toll bridge spanning the Delaware river here.

The time for presentation of the bids is 11 a. m., to the commission's executive committee. An award will be made later after the entire commission has had time to study the offers. There are expected to be about 20 bidders.

The project, which is to include two traffic circles, joining Morrisville streets to the approach, is estimated to cost about two million dollars. The contract will include razing of a coal yard, freight station and several larger houses which have not been sold or moved.

The extension here will go beyond Pennsylvania avenue, which will be over-passed.

At that point, the Pennsylvania Highway Department will pick up the project for its link to U. S. Route 1 near Snipes Corner. The New Jersey approach work is estimated to cost about $1,500,000. It will join the bridge on the Trenton side of the river to the Freeway at Conover's Alley. There will be ramps from this approach to Lambert street and John Fitch Way.

The final major contract the commission will give for its Trenton-Morrisville project will be for

GUNMAN FELLED TRYING TO SHOOT WAY INTO BLAIR HOUSE

Shown is one of the two gunmen who were shot down outside Blair House after they made a frantic shooting effort to get up the Blair House steps and into the Presidential residence. One gunman, shot through the head, presumably dead, was identified as Marion R. Preston. The other was identified as Oscar Olliskin. Police said one of the two men carried letters in a foreign language. President Truman was in Blair House during the shooting. It occurred shortly before he was to leave for a ceremony at Arlington Cemetery. Three policemen were struck by the assassins' bullets. U. S. Baughman, Chief of the White House Secret Service, said both would-be assassins were members of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party, which staged an attempted revolution on that island earlier this week. ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

This election campaign is getting so complicated one of our neighbors thought Trygve Lie was running for the unexpired term of Branch Rickey.

We tried to tell him that everything would work out if Rickey won the nomination to Pittsburgh but he said "That's crazy. . . . Duff is working the city."

All I know is that Vice-President Barkley has passed through New York three times and he's not even on the ticket.

I don't know what kind of a job he has but the hours must be good.

And Miss Truman was around here the other night singing "My Johann" but he doesn't appear on any ticket.

She looked prettier than any of the candidates that have appeared on TV and if it's not too late I'd like to change my straw vote.

Red Troops in Huge Counter-Offensive

Seoul—A huge counter-offensive by 50,000 or more Red troops tonight forced two American and four South Korean Divisions to fall back for distances ranging from nine to 50 miles in northwest Korea. North and northeast of Pyongyang, the entire United Nations front was withdrawn nine miles south from the area of Unsan which was lost to the enemy hordes including numerous Chinese soldiers. On the western coastal flank, the U. S. 24th Infantry Division, which had projected spearheads northward to within 13 miles of Manchuria's border, pulled back its vanguards as much as 50 miles.

Pope Pius Hopes Another War Can Be Prevented

Vatican City—Pope Pius XII condemned Communist oppression of religion and the clergy today in a major address voicing devout hope that a Third World War will be averted. The Pontiff spoke to the largest assembly of Cardinals and Bishops in the history of the Holy See. He said "I will not allow to be torn from my heart the hope that peace can be maintained and secured without another armed conflict."

Truman Takes Usual Walk

Washington—President Truman went for his usual early morning walk on the streets of Washington today, undeterred by yesterday's assassination attempt. Accompanied by a heavy bodyguard of Secret Service men, four of whom stayed immediately with him, the President walked briskly from Blair House to the Washington Monument and back over a route that took him about a mile and a half.

T-V THIEF SIGNS CONFESSION, SAYS COUNTY DETECTIVE

Jack Stevens, Phila., To Be Tried at Criminal Court Term

LISTS SETS STOLEN

All But Two of Robberies Committed During The Daytime

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 2—The man taken into custody Oct. 23 and charged with the theft of television sets from residences in Lower Bucks County has indicated that he will plead guilty to the theft of 15 sets. It is stated that Jack Stevens, 48, of East Thompson st., Phila., will be tried at the next term of criminal court. He is now being held without bail in the Bucks County prison. He is also to be charged with the theft of other household equipment and clothing. The stolen loot has been valued at approximately $5100.

The State Police at the Langhorne Barracks and cooperating police of Bucks County and Philadelphia, worked on the case many months but finally solved the thefts.

Chief of Bucks County Detectives Fred Kohler said today that Stevens has signed a confession containing the names of all the homes that were entered and from which TV sets were stolen.

Sgt. Adrian J. McCarr and Troopers Andrew J. Kutney and Keith R. Dane, of the Langhorne substation of State Police, together with County Detective Kohler, conducted the investigations in the various thefts over a period of months.

Stevens committed all but two of the robberies in daylight, and traveled alone in his automobile.

The accused was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Elwood Fritz, at Fallsington. The prosecutor is Trooper Kutney.

Stevens is charged with thefts at the following homes:

Howard Bender, Newport Heights, Dec. 21, 1949, TV set, $350.

John Wilhelm, Middletown town.

THE CASUALTY LISTS

There is a crumb of satisfaction in learning that the Korean conflict, while one of the bloodiest campaigns in U. S. military history, has the lowest mortality rate of any of them. That statement is made by Dr. Richard L. Meiling, director of medical services for the Department of Defense.

Dr. Meiling says the current rate of slightly more than one per cent of deaths among battle wounded is due to the streamlined operations of field units and the air evacuation system. Litter patients are now back at military hospitals in the U. S. in a matter of days, in contrast to the weeks needed during World War II.

Disease, which traditionally walks hand in hand with war, has hardly been able to get a foothold among U. S. troops. There are scattered cases of malaria, but virtually none of the cholera, dysentery and smallpox that rage through the civilian population.

But this is a deadly war. The Department of Defense has announced total casualty figures of more than 27,000, of which more than 4,000 are listed as dead and more than 4,300 missing. More Americans have been killed and wounded on this rugged, backward peninsula than in the Spanish American War, the Mexican War and the War of 1812 combined. Total casualties are more than twice the casualties of the Normandy campaign of World War II.

Casualty lists are fearful things. No amount of playing down can obscure completely the sheer waste in terms of lives and shattered bodies. There is, nevertheless, some comfort in knowing that we are managing to do better than what might be considered "good" when it comes to taking care of our own. And in these days we must take our comfort as we find it.

MORE CORN IN 1951

After calling for increased production of wheat and cotton in 1951, the Department of Agriculture has turned its attention to corn, and is talking of scrapping all production controls to spur larger yields.

More wheat is needed to bolster dwindling U. S. reserves, officials say. A short cotton crop this year accompanied by increasing demand call for more cotton. Corn is the raw material for expanding livestock and meat production, and as such is closely linked with the cost of living.

The 1950 corn crop is expected to be approximately 3,117,000,000 bushels. Added to the carryover of 859,000,000 bushels, outlook for corn supplies this year is 3,976,000,000 bushels. Consumption next year is estimated at 3,400,000,000 bushels, leaving only 576,000,000 bushels as a carry-over next October, which Department of Agriculture experts say is not enough.

Worry has been defined as a circle of inefficient thought whirling around a pivot of fear.

To Receive Bids Today For Bridge Approach

construction of the administration building, toll booths and other toll facilities in the vicinity of Bank and Grove streets.

Bids will be received for these on November 16. The cost probably will exceed $500,000.

The administration building will be occupied, not only for the bridge and toll operations, but by the commission itself and its entire staff.

For the first time since the commission was organized by the Legislatures of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, the commission will take its offices out of New Jersey.

On November 9, the commission will take contractors' estimates for the New Jersey approach to link the Trenton Freeway to the new river span. Bids for these jobs will be received in the commission offices in the Broad Street National Bank Building, Trenton.

Bloesinger R. C. Disaster Head for Lower Bucks

with John E. Berlenbach of Quakertown, who is coordinator of the joint planning of Civil Defense and Red Cross for the whole of Bucks County.

Announcement will be made soon of disaster sub-committee heads as they are named by the new Branch Disaster chairman. He and his sub-committees then will begin the work of tying together all the services of Red Cross, including the recently greatly expanded programs of First Aid, Home Nursing, Blood Recruitmen etc., toward a comprehensive disaster preparedness and relief plan.

The key-note of all disaster planning, as it goes forward to-day, is self-help. "As classes of first instruction in these fields of First Aid, Home Nursing, Canteen etc., are announced, it is hoped the public will avail itself of this training toward the goal of self-help. As community bloodmobiles are arranged for your town, it would be well to think seriously of planning to donate, that blood may be stockpiled against a possible emergency of large proportions," said a spokesman.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 — Communists in the United States have been handed another blueprint for taking over this country. This umpteenth switch in the Communist party line actually takes it back to the previously tried and discarded "Trojan Horse" policy of trying to work within the framework of established American organizations.

The American Reds got their new marching orders when the Cominform met in Bucharest last summer. There, Soviet vice-premier M. Molotov passed along the word on the new policy, which had been decided upon by Stalin and the Soviet Politburo.

William Z. Foster, chairman of the Communist party in this country, wasted no time in acknowledging the new dictum. He wrote a letter to the Cominform, published in the August 11 issue of the Cominform Journal, promising that U. S. Reds would follow it to the best of their ability.

The letter, we might point out, would seem to belie the defense put up by the 11 Communist leaders who were convicted last spring of trying to overthrow the government—the defense that they took no orders from the Kremlin and that they had no relations with it.

Since August, especially in Ohio, the Communists have been practicing what Stalin preached. On orders from Gus Hall, chairman of the Communist party in Ohio, the Reds in that state helped organize a coalition of labor leaders and Communist-controlled fronts to take over the Democratic party and show the politicians how to beat Senator Taft.

In recent years—roughly, since about the time Germany attacked Russia in 1941—the Communists have been making a frontal assault in trying to put over Stalin's revolution here. They have been running their own candidates for office and keeping prominent comrades in the front ranks of any organizations they took over.

The new orders, however, put them back on the track that was laid out by George Dimitrov, who was general secretary of the Communist International in 1935.

Dimitrov said what the U. S. needed was a "people's democracy." Such a party, he said, "would be a specific form of the mass people's front in America. It would, of course, be neither socialist nor communist—but it must not be an anti-Communist party."

Foster has refined the Dimitrov plan largely because of the success of the Labor government in England. In picking the Democratic party in Ohio for a test run of the new Kremlin orders, Foster put the comrades to work through the political action committee of the C.I.O. This is exactly what Dimitrov had in mind in 1935 when he said:

"Comrades, you remember the ancient tale of the capture of Troy. It was not until the attacking army used the famous Trojan horse to penetrate to the very heart of the enemy's camp that victory was achieved."

In writing back his acceptance of the new tactics, Foster told the Kremlin, via the Cominform Journal, that the best way to do Stalin's bidding would be to create a labor government such as they have in England.

"We must nationalize the banks and industries, break up big land holdings, promote a planned economy and eliminate reactionaries from all state governments," Foster advised the Cominform.

To do this, he said, will require "clear leadership from a powerful Communist party and the active support of the trade unions and all other people's organizations." Foster's lieutenant, Hall, followed this line clearly when he sold the comrades on the idea of taking over from the Democrats in Ohio and setting up the "people's party" to beat Senator Taft.

By burrowing into local organizations of the Democratic party, usually through the P.A.C., or so-called liberal organizations such as Americans for democratic action, the Reds hope to keep their heads down and attract as little public attention as possible.

The plan is working well in Ohio and is beginning to function in New York and Illinois. Regular Democrats are taking their orders from the Communists, probably without even knowing it in most cases. Usually a well-known liberal does the talking for the Reds.

Back in 1939 the Communists in the U. S. were hiding out in basements, much as they are being instructed to do now. This was during the time of the Hitler-Stalin pact. The pact irked the late President Roosevelt so much that he had old Earl Browder picked up on an ancient passport fraud charge. Browder was tossed into the Federal penitentiary in Atlanta, where he stayed until Roosevelt relented and freed him in 1941 "to promote national unity." This was shortly after the Hitler attack on the Soviet Union.

The Reds, of course, blossomed out into the open again after that. Such persons as Alger Hiss, Lee Pressman, Nathan Witt and John Abt started throwing their weight around.

Now things are hot again for the comrades. The new Communist control bill, the arrest of dozens of Red spies, and hearings before the house un-American activities committee have exposed them for what they are. So it's back underground for the domestic Reds. Back to work from behind prominent labor leaders and politicians.

Foster has issued his orders and the comrades are marching to the tight-lipped Secret Service agents probed into the deep ramifications of the plot.

Hemisphere-Wide Federal Investigation Being Made Into Assassination Try

A third man, identified only as a known leader of the attempted Nationalist coup, was sought in the murderous assault on the President's residence yesterday afternoon which left two dead and three critically wounded.

A roundup of known Puerto Ricans, both in the U. S. and in the Caribbean island possession, connected with the Nationalist conspiracy was relentlessly pursued. The U. S. Government also sought to determine what connection, if any, exists between the Puerto Rican Nationalists and the world-wide Communist movement.

The White House Secret Service and uniformed police detail, whose alertness and hair-trigger shooting cut down the would-be assassins of the President as they clawed their way up the steps toward the Blair House front door, reinforced Presidential protection as it had not been done since the mad Zangara tried to kill President Roosevelt in Miami, Fla., in 1932.

An extra cordon of agents and police was thrown around Blair House. Red lanterns winked a warning in the streets for a block in front of the President's residence through the night. All traffic was shut off in Pennsylvania avenue. Pedestrians were shunted to the other side of the street.

The President, unperturbed by the attempt on his life, slept easily through the night.

Calm and philosophical, he told close associates:

"You have to expect a thing like that when you are President."

Five armed Secret Service agents kept constant watch on Oscar Collazo, 37, of 173 Brook avenue, the Bronx, New York, one of the assassins, in a windowless hospital room.

The hospital "safety" room has only a single small, barred ventilator in the ceiling. An armed policeman kept vigil on a fire escape outside.

The wounded assassin was being questioned at intervals.

Physicians reported Collazo's condition as "very good." He was shot through the left shoulder.

U. S. Commissioner Cyril Lawrence prepared first degree murder charges to be preferred against the assassin.

Collazo's companion in the frightful shooting affray, Grisello Torresola, lay in the district morgue. He was killed instantly by a single bullet through the head as he shot down two White House policemen in a sentry box outside the President's residence on Pennsylvania avenue.

Torresola emptied a magazine from a German P-38 automatic pistol into the two guards before they could draw their own guns to defend themselves.

One of the victims, Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, 40, died at 6:18 o'clock last night from wounds in his chest and stomach.

Torresola's other victim, Pvt. Joseph H. Downs, 44, was in Emergency Hospital in a critical condition from wounds in the head, chest and abdomen.

The third police victim of the mad burst of firing as the two assassins sought to shoot their way into the President's house, Pvt. Donald T. Birdzell, 41, suffered multiple wounds in both legs.

It was Birdzell who, as Collazo opened fire on him without warning, ran out into Pennsylvania avenue to draw the line of fire away from pedestrians on the sidewalk.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Don's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Don's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Don's Pills today! and engaged in a pointblank gun duel with the assassin.

Shot through both knees, Birdzell kept on firing after he had crumpled to the pavement.

Secret Service Agent Floyd Borling, a 250-pound six-footer who is the President's driver, and Pvt. Joseph Davidson, who were on guard in the east sentry box nearest the White House on Pennsylvania avenue, ended the mad 30-second shooting affray with bursts from their own guns.

Collazo, blood streaming down his shirt front, was cut down as he attempted to race up the short flight of steps to the President's door, and rolled senseless down the stairs to the sidewalk, his smoking German Luger still clutched in his right hand.

Torresola, shot through the head from ear to ear, pitched in a welter of blood over the low hedge onto the tiny lawn fronting Lee House on the west side of Blair House.

He, too, had sought to climb the staircase to the front door of Lee House.

The two houses, erected side by side, form a single residence in their interior.

President Truman was taking an after-lunch nap in a second floor bedroom as the wild fusillade of shots blasted the sunny calm of the afternoon at 2:20 p. m.

The President, clad in his underclothes, leaped to the window and looked out at the height of the shooting.

A policeman saw the President in the window and shouted:

"Get back! Get back!"

The President was unscathed but bullets ripped into the front of the residence. One smashed the spearpoint of the iron grill fence and ricocheted away with an angry whine.

Mrs. Truman joined the President, and became almost fearful when she mistook Collazo's bloody body for a Secret Service agent. The President comforted her.

Both remained inside as ambulances screamed and police riot cars thundered to the door. Pennsylvania avenue was a wild scene of terror as pedestrians first fled for cover and then rushed back to mill around outside the residence when the shooting ended.

The President then calmly dressed, and shortly before three o'clock left Blair House by a rear entrance for Arlington Cemetery to speak at the unveiling of a statue honoring Sir John Dill, wartime head of the British Defense Mission in Washington.

name and that of his son, Warren B. Watson, with offices in Doylestown.

Senator Watson is a member of numerous important committees in the State Senate, including: Appropriations, of which he was vice chairman; Education, Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, Highways, Insurance and Labor and Industry.

He is also a member of the subcommittee of the General State Authority; the Atlantic State Marine Fisheries Commission; Joint Legislative Committee on Interstate Cooperation; Committee on Traffic Safety and Potomac River (Incoport); chairman of Committee on Agriculture studying Uniform Laws on Agriculture; subcommittee of the Joint State Government Commission on Forestry and Reclamation; and chairman of the Committee to draft Legislation and protecting all historic buildings and land within the State.

Senator Watson introduced a bill outlining into operation the financial responsibility law in Pennsylvania. He was also responsible for the bill which now excludes auctioneers from the real estate broker's license law. He was active in the passage of the bill regulating school bus safety on the highways.

Senator Watson was responsible for legislation that secured 500 additional acres for Washington Crossing Park, and an act eliminating the right of the City of Philadelphia to take certain lands in adjoining counties by right of eminent domain for water supply.

He was also responsible for the bill which led to the transfer of property in Bristol, formerly owned by the State, and now used for parking purposes.

Bucks county's Senator has played an important part in the restoration plans of the Delaware Canal, and the improvement of the Delaware Valley in general. He also introduced a bill at the last session that would benefit the Assessors with an increase of salary. Other bills introduced by Senator Watson had to do with appointing solicitors for the offices of Recorder of Deeds, Prothonotary, Clerk of Orphans' Court and Clerk of Quarter Sessions in fifth class counties.

Senator Watson is married and lives at Mechanicsville.

When "open house" is observed on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 7th, parents and friends of pupils will have opportunity to see the appliances in the new home economics and industrial arts departments.

The hours during which visitors will be welcome are from 7:30 to 9:30.

Representatives of the appliance manufacturing firm, also of Thomas Proff & Sons, Bristol, will be present to demonstrate the appliances.

Refreshments will be served. "Open house" will also be in observance of American Education Week.

St. Mary's Hall

BURLINGTON, Nov. 2 — St. Mary's Hall, has two hockey games scheduled for the forthcoming week. On Saturday November 4th the school's Varsity team plays St. John Baptist School at home. On Wednesday November 8th, it plays Miss Fine's School, also at home. Both games are scheduled for 3 o'clock.

The game with Solebury on October 25th resulted in no score.

The choir of St. Mary's Hall will replace that of Trinity Cathedral in Trenton on Sunday, November 5th, when the Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey holds its annual service in that edifice. Mrs. Vineta Smith, organist and choir director of St. Mary's will be at the organ. The choral service will include the following:

Organ Preludes — Adagio from 2nd Organ Symphony, Charles Winder; Sarabande from G Minor Concerto for Oboe, C. F. Handel.

Hymns—Processionals, 579 Rejoice ye pure in heart, Marion; 296 The Church's one foundation, Aurelia.

Sermon—O thou who blestest friendship, to tune 349 Watermouth. Vesper hymns—466 God be in my head, Lytlington.

This was first used as a prayer to be said before the daily offices during the 16th Century. It was newly added to the 1940 hymnal to its present tune.

Recessional—590 Ten thousand times ten thousand, Alford, full sung choral service; Magnificat, chant Rimbault; Nunc, Dimittes, Chant, Farrant; Girls Friendly hymn after Offertory Anthem 315 We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing; Offertory, Cherubim Song by Bortniansky; Organ Postlude, Prelude & Fugue in D Minor, Bach.

Seniors and Juniors of St. Mary's Hall, will attend a session of the United Nations at Lake Success, on Tuesday, November 7th, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Rouner, the school's history teacher. This has become an annual event at the school and one looked forward to eagerly by students studying current events and International Relations.

On Saturday, November 4th, a number of Upper School girls will attend a dance at Bordentown Miltary Academy. Those in the party will be: Lucy Kellogg, Staunton, Va.; Jerrie Saffin, Summit, N. J.; Gail Durnell, Wynnewood, Pa.; Donna Vose, Washburn, Mass.; Judith Fox, Furlong, Pa.; Carolyn Miller, Fair Haven, N. J.; Georgia Knohloch, Fair Haven, N. J.; Mary Barker, Holmdel, N. 186 Children Have Very Merry Time in Eddington

EDDINGTON, Nov. 2 — Eddington Fire Company was host to 186 children at a Halloween party in the fire station on Friday evening. David Crapp was chairman of the supervising committee. The affair opened with the grand march over which presided six judges.

Prizes were awarded for the following costumes: Fancy, Doris Rosney and Michal Palmer; comic, "Bobby" Kee and "Denny" Montgomery; most original, "Jimmy" Schueller and Rita Buckley. Dancing was enjoyed and games were played.

The following vocal numbers were presented: "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," "Judy" Palmer; "Cruising Down the River," Michal Palmer; "ABC in Love," Charlotte Kirk; "Good Night, Irene," Joan Polakowski; "Down by the Old Mill Stream," Charlotte Kirk. Apples, cookies and ice cream were served to all.

Girl Friends Surprise Margaret Feehly, Age 13

TULLYTOWN, Nov. 2 — A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Margaret Feehly's 13th birthday anniversary, by a few of her girl friends of the town, at her home on Sunday evening. The decorations consisted of pink and blue streamers with balloons attached to a white bell in the center of the ceiling.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments served to: Violet Trimble, Ruth Stake, Cornelia Wilson, Rose Tumminia, Roberta Durante, Pauline Byers, Dorothy Pope, Tullytown; Annamie Gross, Bristol Terrace; Joseph Paul, Robert Hardy, "Teddy" Bodzovich, Bristol; Scott Boyd, Victor Baker, Joseph Tumminia, Paul Grady, Nelson and "Billy" Feehly, Tullytown; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Woolens, Kemblesville; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wright and daughter Connie, Kemblesville; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Feehly.

Make Arrest in N. J. In Bedminster Still Case

BEDMINSTER, Nov. 2 — Frank Wilt, of Sicklerville, N. J., has been arrested by an agent of the Penna. Liquor Control Board, the charge being violations of various liquor laws and conspiracy. This is in connection with the Bedminster still case.

Agent Martin H. Caplan made the arrest. Wilt waived extradition and was taken before Justice of the Peace William Wrigley, at Edison, where he was released under $2,500 bail for a further hearing to be held next Friday.

Authorities say that the accused Sicklerville man has been charged with arranging for the lease of the old Milton Myers farm, near Dublin Borough, where a large still was located in a barn on the premises when it was raided on Monday morning, July 31, by State Liquor Board Agents and State Police.

The still located in a barn that was in clear view of several nearby homes, and by residents of Dublin Borough, constituted a large alcohol distillery that had a capacity of approximately 800 proof gallons of alcohol every eight hours. The U. S. Government was losing approximately $10,000 in tax money every day the plant was in operation.

When the raid was made, there were no workers located at the still. The raid in Bedminster township, followed by one week, a big raid in Tullytown township, by Federal agents. No arrests have ever been made in the Tullytown case. The government lost $14,500 daily from the operation of the Tullytown still.

River Bridges Turn in Profit for 2 Years

ture payments on bond principal and interest and for maintenance and repair of the structures.

The report showed that revenues for the 12-month period totaled $1,861,653.06, an increase of $318,349.29 or 20.63 percent over the preceding year. It also was a gain of $366,053.06 over engineers' estimates upon which acquisition of the bridges was based.

Yocum pointed out that the spans had continued to set new monthly revenue records ever since their acquisition, despite the lowering of tolls from 35 and 30 cents to 25 cents.

Net operating profit for the 12-month period was $1,636,291.21 as compared with $1,262,044.65 the previous year. The commission's bank balances as of Sept. 30, Yocum said, totaled $3,168,617.18.

The traffic count for the year disclosed that 6,870,372 automobiles, trucks and buses traveled over the bridges. This was an increase of 1,101,373 vehicles or 19.09 percent over the previous year, and a gain of 1,971,870 or 40.25 percent over 1948 when the spans were privately-owned.

From the total revenues of $1,861,653.06, only the operations, maintenance and insurance costs of $255,361.85 were permitted to be paid due to a restraining order issued under pending litigation, Yocum added.

"If other disbursements had been permitted, however, the commission would have available, in addition to the reserves, the sum of $1,434,000 for payment of principal and interest of bonds already due," Yocum said.

A breakdown of revenues and traffic for the 12-month period, compared with the preceding year, follows:

Tacony-Palmyra bridge: Revenues $1,587,652.19, an increase of $252,758.09 or 18.93 per cent; traffic 5,862,170 vehicles, a gain of 908,425 or 18.34 per cent.

Burlington-Bristol bridge: Revenues $274,000.87, an increase of $65,591.20 or 31.47 per cent; traffic 1,008,202 vehicles a gain of 192,948 or 23.67 per cent.

Yocum pointed out that the traffic count on the Burlington span showed an increase of 48.81 percent over the last year the bridge was privately-owned. A similar comparison on the Palmyra span showed a traffic gain of 38.88 percent.

The report also explained the im-

2 Injured When Driver Apparently Falls Asleep

When the driver of a passenger car apparently fell asleep at 1.55 this morning while driving along U. S. Route 1, one-half mile east of Philadelphia city line, two men riding with him were injured.

Driver of the car was John O'Mara, W. Dauphin street, Philadelphia. According to state police of Langhorne barracks, O'Mara's car struck an abutment.

Notice is hereby given that the computation of the votes cast in the several Election Districts, as returned by the Election Officers for the General Election of November 7th, 1950, will begin at 12 noon, Eastern Standard Time, on FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1950, in the Administration Building, Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

"Home Decorations" Will Be Theme for The Travel Club

"Home Decorations" will be the theme of the Travel Club program tomorrow afternoon when members of the club gather for their bi-weekly meeting at two o'clock in the club home. A slip cover demonstration will be the feature of this program. The art of making slip covers will be shown by Miss Helen Riffert, Philadelphia; Mrs. Donovan F. Fagans, who, with Mrs. Lester P. Michael, will be in charge of the program, will explain the work of Miss Riffert during the demonstration.

Mrs. William H. Boyd, a member of the club, will give several piano selections.

There will be "echoes" of the County Federation meeting held here last Friday and other club business will be transacted.

It is a guest day and tea will be poured by Mrs. Alfred L. Thompson and Mrs. Charles H. Peet, hostesses.
